

Dr. Daniel McInerny
United States
Professor of Philosophy

University:

Notre Dame University, USA
Concurrent professional specialist in the Philosophy Department

Academic background:

PhD in philosophy from The Catholic University of America (1994)

Discipline:

Philosophy; ethics and culture. Thomistic ethics and natural law theory

Other functions (selection):

Associate director and Myser fellow of the Notre Dame Center for Ethics and Culture at the University of Notre Dame

Publications (selection):

- The Difficult Good: A Thomistic Approach to Moral Conflict and Human Happiness, (2006)
- The Common Things, Essays on Thomism and Education (ed., 1999).
- Toward the Third Millennium. Crisis 15, no. 3 (1997)

Courses taught at the Phoenix Institute:

Notre Dame 2006: Living the Virtues, Notre Dame 2007: Aristotle and Aquinas

E-mail: mcinerny.3@nd.edu